LOWS FALLS TIMES.

A. N. SWAIN. DITOR AND PUBLISHER. D EVERY PRIDAY MORNING, AT LOWS FALLS, VERMONT. RATES OF ADVERTISING.

are, the insertion.

A their cents will be charged for each addition
A liberal distount mate to times who advert a farnished with the most approved materia's for doing you parayers of all varieties, at SINESS CARDS.

GILBERT A. DAVIS, NEY AND COUNSEL OR AT LAW, I Master in Chancery, Notary Public, and Life and Fire Inc PRECEIVILLE, VERMONT.

A. D. & A. G. NOURSE, Manufacturers of HES & BLINDS, & DEALER IN LUMBER

States Mill for Fishing, Saving, Mouldings, &c., &c., teg & Gasen's mail ling. [10] BRATTLEBORO, VT. AMUEL NICHOLS, M. D. Office No. 5 Wightman's Block.

CHARLES B. EDDY. ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW, BELLOWS PALLS, VT.

oth Block. D. E. PEIRCE, and Vender of every filing ever made from LABOR, PREESTONE, GRANITE OR SOAPSTON

> L. AMADON. MAKER & JEWELER, Constantly for Sale
>
> As, (sold and Silver Work, and Fancy Goeds > soctment of Gues, Sides and Fishing Tackle > 16 Wentworth's New Building.

Works, BELLOWS FALLS, Vt.

RUSSELL HYDE. Pealerin INDIA GOODS AND GROCERIES,

Lard, Hams, Fish, T. I. Salt, Oil, Fluid Cheese, Crorkery and Glass ware. having been bought for CASH, will be sole illadvance, for ready pay. "all at Newton's Block No. 1

J. D. BRIDGMAN, T AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW
a Chancery, BELLOWS FALLS, Vi.
mer to take the acknowledgment of Deeds natruments, for the State of New York.

ANK M. ROBINSON, Y AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW, DUBUQUE, IOWA. tmi to the Purchase and Salv of Real Retain Real Ketate Scentily at Western rates; on Cash or Land Warrante; Make Collection runtl; and attend to all other huntlesses in the

Genelon ewa, Sept. S, 1857. ARRIS, STONE & Co., TISSION MERCHANIS,
-- For the sale of --

PALLS, Vt., May 1, 1867. Jas. D. Powers, TOGRAPHIC SALOON, rings Bank, Opposite the Black River Hotel SPRINGFIELD, VT. 44

S. M. BLAKE, DENTIST.

ionsin Bental Surgery and Manufactu Footbin Blocks and Full Sets. Thee in Mammoth Block, up Stairs. WS FALLS, May 1, 1867.

L. E. SIMONDS, PRYSICIAN AND SURGEON SAXTON'S RIVER, Vt.

WILLIAM CONANT, Manufacturer and Dealer in BINET FURNITURE.

SANDERS & BROWN.

e HOOM AND GROCKRY STORE. hand and for sale, Oysters, Lohsters, Chan-are, Ples, Cakes, Confectionery, &c. [15] labed at who esale and received daily from a by mailor otherwise primptly attended to ertes & Seraphines BELLOWEPALLS Vt.

CHARLES BUXTON rof and Dealer in Trunks and Valles, Chaise Buggy and Stage Harnesse

W. A. PATRICK, Machinist,

Manufacture of MARE MACHINERY. 50

HOUGHTON'S Photographic Art Gallery

PHOTOGRAPHIC POETRAITS IN OIL, Cores by Wm. Rhoner, in, and member of the Vienna Society of Arts and Schemes.

APMAN'S IMPROVED

INE WATER WHEEL S. CHAPMAN & CO.,

arring in Power from 1 to 800 Horse

omaica Leather Company

M - MADE BOOTS saly for the New England Trade. WARRANTED. PRICES TO SUIT THE SPRACUE, ACENT.

JAMAICA, VERMONT. DOWNER'S KEROSENE OIL:

THE BEST ARTICLE IN MARKET, AT HYDE'S.

Bellows kalls Times.

BELLOWS FALLS, VT., FRIDAY, JANUARY 17, 1862. VOL. 7.

POETRY.

ful lines was found in the pocket of one of our Volunteers who died in Camp upon the

ALL QUIET ALONG THE POTOMAC.

"All quiet along the Potomar." they say,
"Kareyd, now and then a stray picket.
Is thet, as he walke on, his best to said free,
By a rifleman hid in the thicket;
The nothing—a private or two, now and then,
Wil not count in the news of the battle;
Not an officer lost, only one of the new Mouning out, all alone the death rattle."

All quiet along the Potomac to-shift.

Where the so-diers lie peacefully dreaming;
Their tents in the rays of the clear antumn use of the light of the watchifte, are glesming.
A tremuleus sigh as the gentie night whod.
Through the longst leaves sellly in cropping;
While stars up above, with their ellifieding eyes
heep guard—fire the Army is steeping.

There's only the second of the loss sentry's trea-as he transpe from the rock to the somtain, And dishase of the two in the kies transite bed. Far away in the cod on the mountain. His number falls check—his lose, dark and grim, Gross gentle with memories tender. As he muties a prayer for the children select— For their mother, may literan default her:

The moon weens to white just as brightly as then,
That night when the love ret answellen.
Legs, top to be spe, and when low maintained to
Were placing to be ever unbruken.
Then drawing his steerte roughly over his eyes,
if dashes off tears that are welling.
And gathers his gain choser up to its place.
As if to keep down the heart swelling.

As it to keep even the near's weath.

He passes the fountain, the blasted pine tree,
The footstep is larging and wenty;
Yet onward in goes through the bread beit of light,
Towards the shades of the forest so dreary.

Hark; was it the nightwind that rusticed the leaves?

Was it moonlight so wondrously flacking?
It looked file a rifle— Ha.—Mars, good bye. "

And the life blood is obbing and placking.

All quiet along the Potogone to-night, No second save, the rush of the river; While soft falls the doe on the face of the doad,— The picket's off duty forever;

SNOW SCULPTURE.

BY GROBUS W. BUNGAY On hills and Streets bare and brown, I see the short anow come down, So soft and white, Like showers of bissessons winds have blown From flowers of light.

Faster and faster fall the flakes. On the dim woods and silver lakes, From scoring skies, Like soft words on a heart that breaks When pits sighs.

Ye walling winds that sadly sigh, Above the gauses where heroes ile, In sorrow blow And build whete columns, bread and high, Let pyramids of spotiess hue
Point to the bending arch of blue
Without a stain,
And mark the plane whore sleep the true,
In battle slain.

Ye unseen sculptors in the air, Go caree designs in beauty there, And grave the name Of Barra deep in betters fair As wreaths of fame.

Go where the bending willow weeps Over the found where Elliwouth sleeps, And softly write The spitaph that history keeps In letters white.

Quarry from clouds a shaft to tower Above the spot where sleeps the flower, Of armies true, 'Till blossons rise in sun and shower, Ited, white and blue.

MISS SLIDELL.

The girl smod on the steamer's deck. While men in arms stood thick aroun And from Aucinto's threatening either A score of camous on her fromed, She made them have bee failer there. She hadden and the most of the hira-She naddy and the becomb here. And Sorriensly exposed her—shirt!

MISCELLANY.

A Hamburg Bank Tragedy.

Many years ago the firm of Haroldson & town would have taken his word readier town, and said he would be satisfied with law. or would undeceive him, though schoolmast-packet.' ers, friends and neighbors knew that Frederick Haroldson had little expacity, less sidson. book and clothes, never let him into the with spilling blood?" ous, and his father was manager; and when banker.

of state one day by his talents. afterwards, that the banking house of Mar- unto you, do even so?"

following events took place :-

a Frenchman of not very good repute in not that you know more than you should structed from the coffers in the strong room, with care, and many of then are beautiful the town, he was an object of distrust to about this business."

was presented for payment a three hundred took a cold, deadly gleam as he fixed them nied by the banker or his chief c'erk .- that it professes to be-pure gold; but the dollar note, which proved to be a forgery, on the banker. "You refuse to serve him," There was no mode of entrance or egress proportion of the metal to the whole is very The presenter, a senator of the town, had he said, " because it is not your duty, or, in except by the iron-bound door of which small. A strip of gold, not thicker than a not it from his correspondent in Amsterdam; other words, because it would not please Haroldson kept the key. On examination silver dollar, is secured to a bar of brass of the correspondent had got it from a Rus- the merchants and bankers of the town .- the place appeared secure as ever; nothing corresponding size, but thicker in proporsian merchant; the Russian had got it from Well, listen: do what I ask you to-morrow, out of order; the papers, jewels and plate tion. A flux is applied, to unice the two, his correspondent in London; and at length or I will make your bank, your family, and deposited there for many a Danish family, and the mess is subjected to the action of the eashier of an English banking house, yourself an example to all merciless Danes, were all safe in their chests, yet keys had fire. At the proper moment it is withthen of high repute in Hamburg, declared while the walls of Hamburg stand;" and been found for the old-fashiened coffers drawn, and when cool the two metals are that he had received it, among other notes, before a word could be said in answer, he which contained the specie-the bank had found firmly united. The bar is then rolldirect from the Danish bank, in exchange had gone and shut the door. for some issued by his firm. On closer in- Haroldson was not the man to be intimi- and dollars could not go without hands. vestigation, Christian Haroldson recollected dated, but he shut up the bank with unusu- "It's no ghost," said the banker, as he than letter paper. It is then cut into small that on the day mentioned by the cashier, al care, and looked sober and thoughtful all and his chief clerk talked over the matter pieces of the size required, and the artisan he had exchanged notes with the English the way home. He was sure the French- in private. There is some wicked trick a so places them is succession that the die house, by the hand of Edward Grundler. man was concerned in the transaction, and playing on us. You remember what Dala falls upon each in turn, giving it the requir-The predent banker, as his custom was, had their wisest plan was to give immediate in- pres said, when I would not do as he wished. ed form .- Scientific American. registered the number sent, not only in the formation to the police. The police were These French are fearfully clever in misbank books, but also in a private ledger of accordingly informed, and Delapres' lodg- chief. I know it is he that has first frighthis own, and the forged one was not among ings visited the same night; but he had re- ened the house and then robbed it. Nothem. Moreover, the English cashier moved early in the afternoon, his landlady body has ever heard noise in the strong clearly indentified Grundler as the messen- could not say whither, and the whole city room; but don't you observe that the thing ger, but the latter persisted in knowing was searched for him in vain. Next day in white has been always seen in that dinothing about the forgery. The notes had the trial came on, and Haroldson gave his rection. I can't imagine how he gets in ; been given to him in a scaled packet; as evidence. It was conclusive against poor but I'll match him, if you stand by me.

and a day appointed for his trial in the city walls.

Frenchman Delapres, he had never been son, though he did not say it. The banker out of sight, Haroldson and his confidential ever, and as the boat was about to leave accused of any crime, and there was not a was a prudent man, and things went well clerk met at the door as appointed, re-en. he particularly charged his deputy, Sershadow of suspicion against him; but with him; his son flourished at college; no tered and locked it, found the pistols which geant Brigham, of Fortress Monroe, who Grundler's friends and relations said that more forged notes turned up, and his wealth they had privately loaded and deposited in constantly goes up and down the bay, to bad company was the cause of his ruin, was increasing. In the safe fashion of those the managers office, groped their way to keep a close watch on her. This officer and it was easy seeing how little Delapres times, he was not only manager, but one of the strong-room door, which Haroldson formed her acquaintance during the evencared for the boy now, for he was to be the four proprietors of the bank. One locked, and took their station behind the ung, but she did not suspect the capacity in seen in all public places as gay as ever, lived in Copenhagen, one in Bremen, and pillar, pistol in hand. It was the only clear which he was acting. The suspicions comlaughing and jesting with new companions; one at Lubeck; they did little in the way night the city had seen for months; and as municated by Capt. Davis were strengthbut that was like his country. Late in the of direction, but left the entire management they stood there, the moon, which was near ened, but it was deemed prudent to commuevening before the trial, Christian Harold- to Haroldson, as the right of his family, the full, shone in through a small narrow nicate them to no one, nor to take any steps son remained in his office arranging some and though not stingy, he kept his house and window set high in a thick wall, and doubly before morning. At the breakfast table papers and looking over accounts; the bank- his son economically, that a capital might grated. Just at that moment, they heard a Mrs. Baxley (for she appeared to be a er, if possible, stock closer to business after accumulate to buy a family estate when grating noise in the corridor, then a key married woman) threw off all disguise and that difficulty. As he was about to leave Frederick came to his greatness. A year turned outside, and as the door of the avowed herself a Secessionist, which enfor the night, the porter said a gentleman passed quietly away; the young man came strong-room opened, a tall figure clad all in tirely convinced Deputy Marshal Brigham was a Danish gentleman named Christian son's good offices on behalf of his friend.— his money, what progress he was making heavy fall. Both rushed to the prostrate three parcels, and was about to leave the goer, a good liver and an honest man. His toward the accused clerk, Grundler. First gymen, steady students and exemplary said Haroldson; and when the clerk brought versation in his proper character as Deputy clerks and dependents said there never was he flattered the banker on every imaginable characters. Haroldson showed his letters the candle, he was standing in a pool of Provost Marshal for Old Point, acting unthan most people's bond; and all who knew ities for business, and the figure his son ing ill of the boy, and that he was correct from whom he had got one of the good and men's saloon of the boat, where she was inhim agreed that Haroldson had but one Fred-rick was sure to make. Then he in the estimate of his son.

Frederick above banks and business. He evidence is in your hands. Remember he progressed well. He still remained fore the banker, beseeching him to save iness he did not understand, though nothing introducing a small quantity of silver or taken in custody to the Provost Marshal's The gentleman rode off, fully satisfied with there, and his father was receiving encour- Grundler, as if the life had been his own, would bring him to admit that it was a copper. Silver renders it lighter color, and office. Here she undertook to convey a the salubrity and healthiness of the Plain aging letters from him constantly, when the Eut Haroldson was not to be prayed out of ghost. A fact which seemed to corroborate copper gives it a deeper shade, inclining it warning to some one-probably Brownhis duty, though tears came into the good his opinion came to light about mid-winter, to a reddish hoe. The jew-ler of the pre- by throwing out of the window a piece of There was a clerk in the bank named man's eyes, and at last be said resolutely: when the nights were the longest and the sent day relies in a great measure on dies paper which had written on it. "Flee! I Edward Grundler, and from the fact that "Mr. Delapres, I would not do what you fear at its height. It was discovered that for the forms he gives the articles that come am caught. All is lost!" The message

A printed copy of the following beauti- Mr. Christian Haroldon. One day there Delapres sprang to his feet, and his eyes ment, no one had acce a unless accompated out in strips, and what is beheld is all got from him, he was committed to prison, it was the law for all who died within the not a word to the clerks."

All who knew Grundler were sorry for lapres, and Grundler's relations thought it closed at the accustomed hour next eve- but allowed to proceed to Baltimore. Capt. him. Nobody thought of blaming the a good riddance; so did Christian Harold- ning, and when all the clerks were fairly Davis' suspicion had become aroused, how-his son Frederick. He was the only boy guilt; showed how incapable the boy was hung ever the city night and day; the ice to frighten his father's clerks and rob the out of seven children. The good man's of committing forgery, even if he had been on the Elbe and the Alster was not safe for bank. wife had died when they were young; and willing; how unlikely it was that he knew country traffic, while as usual, it blocked The mode of his entrance was also visi- head, disclosed the fact that it was lined is clear and without wrinkle; his face free he had brought up his six daughters, with anything of the note, he would not save up the shipping; provisions were in consethe help of their old nurse, to be good wom- himself by a full confession; that he had quence dear, business was dull, and there the corridor was turned up, disclosing an stockings brought out another batch, at the en and careful housekeepers, in our Danish always led an honest life, was young, and was little news except what began to be open grate, a ladder of strong ropes, and a same time protesting on her honor and fashion, had laid by a decent portion for had no relations that cared for him. Har- whispered about the Danish bank. As the passage below, which wound away under character they were all that she had in her each of them, had married the three eldest oldson agreed to all be said; it was a hard nights grew long and dreary, a report got the bank, till it terminated in a sort of fis- possession. But the officer who had imto honest men of his own standing in the case, but he could not interfere with the up among the bank clerks and servants sure in one of the arches of the Alster bibed no very clevated opinion of cither, iant. In reproving or censuring he is awe regarding a tall figure in white-positively bridge hard by, of easy access from the ice declined to accept the assurance, and inhusbands of the same quality for the three I know you cannot, said Delapres; but a winding-sheet-which came out of dark on the river. Nobody had dreamed of the formed her that the examination must go remaining; but he set his heart on raising you can save the boy. The condemning corners, and surprised them in the loneliest existence of that passage; it must have on. Meanwhile, Provost Marshal Mcparts of the building. The porter had seen been constructed in the monks' time, as Phail, who had been sent for, arrived with was proud of the boy from a notion that he that neither your pen nor your memory is it first in one of his nightly rounds; then some convenience to those holy brothers, a female to make the search, which was in was really a talented fellow. Nobody could infallible; that note may have been in the it appeared more or less distinctly to sev- and the memory of it lost in course of time. a state-room. We need not here confine erat of the clerks, but always when they How young Haroldson spent the money, or ourselves to minute detail farther than to I am certain that it was not, said Har- were alone; and the whole establishment who wrote the letters from Copenhagan, state that officer Brigham, who was at the believed it to be the ghost of Edward was never discovered. The unfortunate door, soon had his attention attracted by a spirit, and was likely to turn out a sort of But you could waive that certainty to Grundler. They had a notion that he had banker went all the way to inquire; but he noise and a scream in the state-room. capegrace, but in a hidden, underhand way, save a young man's life, and make me your been unjustly condemned, and that there- could only learn that his son had never Opening the door he beheld the searcher for he had a great deal more cunning than eternal debsor. Excellent sir, what is tam- fore his restless spirit haunted the scene of lodged at the respectable house from which with her hands griped about the searched, courage. The father sent him to the best pering with a bank entry, or admitting that his accusation. The terror this idea inschools in Hamburg, spared no expense on you are not sure of its accuracy, compared spired was so great that some of the oldest the acquaintances mentioned in them. He clenched in one of her hands a paper, of clerks gave up their places; the porter, returned to business, and tried to go on as which the officer (it being no time for specbank except to see it, which the boy did to What! sir-falsify my books, and swear whose courage had never been known to be used to do, but never looked himself ial modesty) speedly took possession. Mrs. every crevice and corner, for he was curi- to what I know to be untrue? cried the fail before, would not go on his rounds again. Within six months he resigned his Baxley was highly indignant; in fact she alone; and general consternation reigned managership of the bank, and before the was amazed, perfectly furious, and underhe was just eighteen, sent him to the uni- 'Mr. Haroldson, I know you to be an in the establishment. Christian Haroldson close of the year, was laid beside his son, took to make an exhibition of herself, a la versity of Copenhagen, to study Danish bonorable and pious man; but were your himself did not appear to be frightened, The husband of his eldest daughter suclaw, that he might come to be a counsellor own son in the same position, what would though it was generally allowed he had the ceeded him-a discreet man, but the bank paper in question was a commission signed you wish to be done? And does not the best right. It was long before any one did not prosper under his government; by Jefferson Davis, appointing Dr. Sep-train on Thursday last, by waving his hat It is perhaps unnecessary to state here, highest authority you acknowledge say dared to tell him of the spectre. When people somehow lost confidence in it, after tamus Brown, of Baltimore, surgeon in the "what's the matter?" screamed the enin explanation of the events which occurred Whatsoever ye would that men should do one of the clerks mentioned it as the cause the story of young Haroldson. If that Confederate army. This with other pap- gineer. "Matter!" said the farmer, of his resignation, he tried to laugh him out were Delapres' revenge, or how he con- ers and letters was ingeniously placed in "nothing," as I know of." "Then what aldson & Co. was and old masonry building Haroldson was not to be moved by such of the notion, insisted that good spirits had trived to execute it, neither time nor inremodeled for banking purposes, and that dexterous reasoning. He had a high and no wish to return to this wicked world, and quiry ever disclosed. When the French crease the fullness, so becoming in a well-gineer. "O Lord!" said the farmer, "why, Frederick Haroldson, during the few times inflexible sense of duty. Every man was that evil ones were not permitted to molest occupied Hamburg, the Danish bank was proportioned weman, though seldom susthat he visited the place, explored every bound to tell and show the truth. He would honest people; but when the man would the first of the public funds they seized, pected of owing its graceful lines te comquaint nock and corner thereof, and was do anything lawful to save the boy, but he not stay, and others went, and when the The old house was ruined in the subsequent missions signed by Jefferson Davis. The very curious in his inquiries relative to the must act according to his conscience. Then head cashier confessed to having seen it, bombardment, and has since given way to search was thorough. Letters and papers in, weeping bitterly. " My friend," insubterranean apartments, which, of course the Frenchman took to prayers and entreat- he took to going about the place after dark, timber stores, - Brother Jonathan. ies. He had a high spirit, or at least a and must have caught some glimpses of it Well Frederick went to the college at good deal of pride like the most of his na- too; for Haroldson all at once acknowl-Copenhagen under an excellent tutor, and tion; but he flung himself on his knees be-edged that there was something in the bus- used for jewelry, but is usually alloyed by ferocious. Re-clothing her-self, she was I wouldn't rock grandladdy to sleep!

to which, by a fixed rule of the establish- and often very in ricate. The gold is rolla good deal in store just then-and crowns ed out between steel rollers till the metal

he got, so he said he delivered them. The Grundler. He would say nothing in his To-morrow is Friday, the day on which English cashier in some respects corrobora- defense but what he had said before. Sen- Grundler was condemned, and the clerks ted his statement, for he had found the bank tence of death was accordingly passed upon say the figure is always seen that night. seal perfect, and the time at which the notes him; but in hopes that the boy's heart We'll make believe to go home at the usual which Grundler might have taken to walk light on the mystery, that day three months here, and come back, if you'll come with from the bank to the Elbe Stross, where was fixed for his execution. The poor fel- me. It may be cowardly, but I coufess 1 other, by the name of Baxley, was travelthe English bank was situated. By the low's steadfastness surprised everybody; do not care for trying it alone; there might ing on the usual pass. On the way to Old laws of Hamburg, Grundler was obliged he went back to prison without saying one be more than himself. We'll take no light Point, she made inquiries of Capt. Millard either to tell how he had come by the note, word; but whether from weakness, or the with us, ; I know every step of the house; whether she would be subjected to an exunder those peculiar circumstances, or suffer terrors of his mind, he was soon after we'll station ourselves behind the great amination at Old Point, and as she was inthe penalty of forgery, which was there a seized with brain fever, and died wi hin the pillar in the corner of the strong room, and formed that Provost Marshal Davis, about capital offense as in most other countries of fortnight. No one thought him guilty, but the first sound we hear, I'll fire in that di- whom she seemed anxious to know as much Europe; and as no explanation could be they laid him in the prison burial ground; rection. Mind you bring your pistols, and as possible in advance, would probably act

The chief clerk promised to stand by his slightly uneasy.-On arriving here she Nothing more was seen or heard of De- principal, and keep secret. The bank was was not submitted to a rigid examination, he associated intimately with one Delapres, ask me, to save the whole city; and I doubt cash to an unknown amount bad been ab- from his hand. These he has cut in steel fell into other hands than those for whom and so are t'en greatest mer.

in the form of a long ribbon, is not thicker

CTREETSE CORRESPONDENCE 1 A "Model" Secesh Widow.

I have on former occasions spoken of the abuse to which the flag of truce, in spite of mit of his placing the Persian-like gift he utmost vigilance of the officers, was lia- where it would be most bonored; so he imble. I have an interesting case, and as mediately drew his penknife, and cot a slit usual, there is a woman in it illustrating in his dress in the neighborhood of his heart, the fact. Saturday afternoon last, there where he deposited the happy omen. came from Norfolk, two ladies, direct from Richmond; one of them from Rhode Isl. A BRAVE GIRL.—At Spinelli, in Italy. and, whose identity was established beyond the house of a Liberal priest was broken were sent and delivered, agreed with that might fail, or something turn up to throw hour of closing; but I'll have my pistols all dispute, and was accompanied by her into by a band of Bourbon brigands. One son, released from imprisonment. The according to circumstancee she appeared A PAGAN LEGEND OF JESUS .- Publics wished to speak with Mr. Haroldson; and home to see his family—they said much im- white glided in, and made straight up to that he was on the right track. The boat Senate:—"At this time appeared a man with one of his best bows, in walked Dela- proved-and returned to college again. the coffers. In a moment the report of arrived at Baltimore, and Mrs. B. went who is still living and endowed with mighty pres. He introduced himself in the most Frederick's letters came so regularly, and Haroldson's pistol rang through the old ashore and engaged a hack. Returning to power; his name is Jesus Christ. His burg. The head and manager of the house ny, as Laving come to request Mr. Harold- week how he spent his time, how he spent from a well known voice; and there was a which consisted of a satchel and two or regard him as a powerful prophet. He Haroldson, and he deserved his first name. In spite of his French accent he spoke and what acquaintances he formed; they man, but they could not discern his face. boat finally, when the officer informed her every description of infirmity and disease. if any man did. He was a steady church- Danish well, and he plead hard for mercy were all the sons of grave lawyers or cler- "For God's sake go and strike a light!" that he desired a few moments further cona better master. The merchants of the subject, and chiefly on those on which he with great pride to his friends, who all blood, and close to his feet lay the dead der the orders of Gen. Wool. Professing feelings both of fear and love. The hair of prided himself-his noble descent, his abil- agreed that they had been mistaken in think- white face of his son! It was Frederick, some surprise, she accompanied him to the his head is of the color of wine, and from proper letters that very day, who had come formed that she would have to submit to without radiance, but it decends from the fault or folly and that could scarcely be urged that a man of his sound sense and That winter was a particularly dark and night after night, clad in a shroud and sheet, bave her person examined. This piece of ears to the shoulders in shinning curls. blamed, for it was the thinking too much of uprightness could not believe in Grundler's depressing one in Hamburg. Heavy fogs and armed with a bunch of skeleton keys, information threw her off her balance, in From the shoulders the hair flows down of more or less importance were found in all sorts of places. Mrs. Baxley now had with you?" "Why," replied the man, it was intended Doctor Brown was shorte ly after lodged in Fort McHenry, and proper steps taken in regard to other persons implicated by the pap rs found on Mrs. Baxley, who is retained in custody. To Officer Brigham she confessed that but a -hort time ago, she left Baltimer-, made her way scross Maryland to the Potomac, and thence to Bichmond; told her adventures which were marked by many a stifring incident, with Sister lamentation, and with almost a broken heart, mourned the miscarriage of all her undertakings.

PRINCE ALBERT'S COURTSHIP .- The London papers have begon their reminiscences of Prince Albert, and some pretty stories are told of the royal courtship, one of which states that he played the part of a royal lover with all the grace peculiar to his house. He never willingly absented himself from the Queen's society and presence, and her every wish was anticipated with the alacrity of an unfeigned attachment. At length her Majesty, having wholly made up her mind, found herself in some measure embarrassed as to fit and proper means of indicating her preference to the Prince, but acquitted herself with delicacy and tact. At one of the palace balls she took occasion to present her boquet to the Prince at the conclusion of a dance, and the hint was not lost poon the polite and gallant German. His close uniform, buttoned up to the throat, did not per-of the leaders was amusing himself by stabbing the poor priest, who was old, when his niece rushed in, flung herself on him, snatched in an instant the brace of revolvers he had in his belt, and shot him dend. She ran through all the rooms, firing upon every brigand she found engaged in plundering the house. She shot down four of them. Alarmed at this unexpected attack, and not knowing what to make of it, the rufflans in the other rooms ran out. She. still pursuing them, succeeded, before they could get a knowledge of the enemy they had to encounter, in closing the front door against them. The brigands attempted to set fire to the house. From the balcony she put out an old musket belonging to her uncle, and fired upon them again, and then displaying from the window a tri-colored flag, cried "Viva Grabaldi," with all her strength. The miscreants fired an ineffectual shot or two and fairly ran for it. A few moments after a captain of bersaglieri, who just came up, found the exhausted girl in a faint upon the dead body of her uncle.

Lentulus, assumed by some to have been proconsul of Judea prior to Herod, is reported to have seen the Savior, and to have written the following letter to the Roman raises the dead to life, and heals the sick of portioned; his countenance severe and virtuous, so that he inspires beholders with the top of the head to the ears, straight and fessed, and taking her bonnet from her the manner of the Nazarenes; his forehead nose and mouth are faultless. His beard is abundant, the same color as the hair, and forked. His eyes are blue and very brillinspiring; in exhorting and teaching, his speech is gentle and caressing. His countenance is marvellous in seriousness and grace. He has never once been seen to laugh, but many have seen him weep. He is slender in person, his hands are straight and long, his arms beautiful. Grave and solemn in his discourse, his language is simple and quiet. In appearance be is the most beautiful of the children of men."-Church Monthly.

A western clergyman, in presenting a revolvor to a volunteer, said : " If you get into a tight place, and have to use it, ask God's blessing if you have time, but be sure not let your enemy get the start of you, You can say amen after you shoot."

A farmer living on the line of the Troy and Boston Railroad, stopped a passenger

A gentleman traveling across Salisbury plain saw an old man at the door of a cabto produce such unparalleled instances of

The greatest truths are the simp